

The THRESHER

THE ORIGINAL TRENCH COAT OF SEPTEMBER, 1914

recommended by the W.O. to all the O.C. Corps in the British Army in France the first winter of the war.

The finest testimonial to practical utility ever awarded a Battle Garment: Interlined Thresher "Melange" is impervious to WIND, WET, or MUD.

Officers in the U.S. Expeditionary Force are already ordering in large numbers.

Today we can supply you by return; next month you may have to wait a week or longer, and in November and December you may have to be content with another make as our output is limited to 500 a week.
